

[Coming] soon

Comfortable and Comforting

Pair of Projects Will Inspire and Delight

Photography by Matt Silk

To start off the New Year we'll look at a pair of interior design projects that take design to new levels.

It's no secret that the Trust has transformed the corner of Fourth and Tryon. This urban oasis of eight exclusive condominiums in the former Home Federal Savings building showcases the type of architectural and interior design that you'd expect to see in Manhattan - right here in our own Uptown. Developer Jim Donnelly, co-founder and managing director of Pursuit Group, followed his vision to transform what had been a troubled property into a sought-after address.

Today's Custom Home will peek inside one of the Trust's most exclusive units - a multi-level condo on the cutting edge of design. Interior designer Toni Sawhney, the owner of Tulikas Interiors, characterizes the space as: "modern, contemporary and eclectic, yet comfortable and cozy." As these photos show, clean lines and sleek styles are warmed by soft wood tones and more than a dash of sparkle.

The Trust also was home to The Charlotte Chapter of the Interior Design Society (IDS) Spring 2008 ShowHouse benefitting Dove House Children's Advocacy Center. In our next issue, we'll look at the inspired designs that brought the organization's Fall ShowHouse to life in Cramer Mountain, chaired by Toni Sawhney. Slated for November 8 through 30, this event will feature the work of the talented members of IDS and again benefit Dove House, a non-profit organization that provides a safe and child-friendly facility that supports the investigation, intervention and prosecution of reported child sexual abuse cases in Iredell and Alexander Counties. Visit www.idscharlotte.com or www.dovehouse.us for updated information on dates, times and ticket sales. ■

Top: Interior designer Toni Sawhney, owner of Tulikas Interiors, envisioned this striking contemporary kitchen for a resident of The Trust. We'll see more of this urban oasis in an upcoming issue.

Bottom: Clean lines pair with warm tones and more than a touch of sparkle throughout this dramatic home.